

EXAM:, CT head.,REASON FOR EXAM:, Seizure disorder.,TECHNIQUE:, Noncontrast CT head.,FINDINGS: , There is no evidence of an acute intracranial hemorrhage or infarction. There is no midline shift, intracranial mass, or mass effect. There is no extra-axial fluid collection or hydrocephalus. Visualized portions of the paranasal sinuses and mastoid air cells appear clear aside from mild right frontal sinus mucosal thickening.,IMPRESSION:, No acute process in the brain.